

Web Sites You Might Be Missing

Presented by Lisa A. Alzo
www.lisaalzo.com
lisa@lisaalzo.com

Just about everyone in the genealogical community knows about the commercial sites and other “heavy hitters” for online research. This session will discuss some useful family history web sites or databases that typically fly “under the radar” and a few cool tools and applications to help make the research more productive (and fun)! Talk will include a demonstration of several selected sites (as many as time permits).
($) = a subscription or fee may be required.

Most genealogists are familiar with the major genealogy sites/databases:

Ancestry.com www.ancestry.com ($)

Castle Garden www.castlegarden.org

Ellis Island www.ellisland.com

FamilySearch www.familysearch.org

Family Search Record Pilot

<http://pilot.familysearch.org/recordsearch/start.html#start>

Footnote www.footnote.com ($)

GenealogyBank www.genealogybank.com ($)

Genealogy.com www.genealogy.com ($)

One-Step Web Pages (Steve Morse) www.stevemorse.org

RootsWeb www.rootsweb.com

World Vital Records www.worldvitalrecords.com ($)

Some Sites You Might be Missing:

Access Genealogy www.accessgenealogy.com

Allen County Public Library www.acpl.lib.in.us

AncestralHunt www.ancestralhunt.com

Archives.com www.archives.com ($)

DeathIndexes (Joe Beine) www.deathindexes.com

German Roots (Joe Beine) www.germanroots.com

Geneabloggers.com www.geneabloggers.com

GenSoftReviews www.gensoftreviews.com

iGoogle www.google.com

Library of Congress www.loc.gov

Making of America www.hti.umich.edu/m/moagrp

Mortality Schedules.com <http://mortalityschedules.com>

MyHeritage www.myheritage.com ($)

OurTimelines www.ourtimelines.com

USA Church www.usachurch.com

Lecture attendees will receive an additional “BONUS” handout with even more websites (including some cool tech tools) to explore.

For Further Reading

"50 Websites You Might Be Missing" by Lisa A. Alzo, Internet Genealogy September 2008

"23 Websites to Fire Up Your Family History" by Lisa A. Alzo, Internet Genealogy, March 2007

Download PDF versions of these articles at:

www.lisaalzo.com/articles.htm

Lisa Alzo ShareThis

Are you looking for a reliable freelance writer to write articles for your newspaper or magazine? Perhaps you want to tell your life story or that of an ancestor and don't know where to begin? Need copy for a newsletter or Web site? Looking for a ghost writer for a book?

With over 20 years experience, I can provide high quality writing services for both personal and professional communications projects. I earned a Master of Fine Arts degree from the highly acclaimed Creative Nonfiction Writing Program at the University of Pittsburgh, have authored nine books, and have written articles for newspapers and national magazines. More about Lisa Alzo

If I can help you by providing you with professional quality writing please feel free to contact me.

Connect with Lisa

Follow Me On Twitter

facebook

RECENT BOOKS

Cleveland Czechs
by John Sabol and Lisa Alzo.
Arcadia Publishing, Oct 2009.

Cleveland Slovaks
by John Sabol and Lisa Alzo.
Arcadia Publishing, Oct 2009.

More Books

RECENT ARTICLES

- "Forged In Steel" Ancestry Magazine January/February 2010
- "Victory in Europe" Family Tree Magazine, January 2010
- "Silent Voices: Identifying the Historical Significance of Slovak Immigrant Women" Jednota, Wednesday February 17, 2010

LECTURE TOPICS

- Demystifying East European Research
- Writing Your Family History Step-by-Step
- Beginning Slovak Genealogy
- More Topics